(This is the second of a series of four dispatches analyzing the

and is based upon observations made by Mr. Lawrence during a 10,000 mile journey from coast to coast, just completed, during which 36 different cities were visited in a total of 21 states—the most extensive canvass made by any newspaper correspondent this fall.)Washington—President Harding is today in midstream with the tides of his own party running against him.
Personally popular, respected and esteemed, Mr. Harding has failed to convince many of the influential leaders of the republican party that he has made the best use of his opportunities in the last two years. They are not ready to say
he shall not be nominated for a second term in 1924—they are sympathetic with any effort he may make in the next two years to relieve his mistakes, and they wish him success because they would rather renounce him than face a contest inside the party. But the pre-valing impression is that Mr. Harding is not sufficiently aggressive, not possessed of enough initiative to lead the party in these, its most trying years of regeneration.For the republican party is in process of evolution. Leadership never was more essential. The time is coming to be led—it is tired of following. Will-o-the-wisp politicians and it is even more tired of congress and its dilatory ways. President Harding is being criticized more for his lack of leadership than any one thing. The country accepted at first his argument that the legislative and executive branches of the government should be kept independent and now it believes Mr. Harding has taken of most republican editors with whom the writer has talked—they think Mr.

Harding has made his greatest mistake by leaving the reins of power to be handled without regard to the best interests of the party. As if in illustration of this point, republican chieftains without exception, or dozens of editors, uniformly agree that Mr. Harding's veto of the bonus was the most popular act of his administration. Why? Because he overruled congress. Because he took the bit in his teeth and did a course our chief in a political year. Because he followed his convictions. Even

To Beloit woman[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit—Gas fumes coming from a leaky range were the cause of the death of Mrs. O. E. Cox, 60, at her home on Elm street here Saturday morning. Roy, 20-year old son, is critically ill but will recover.
Shortly after 7 a. m. a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cox, came into the kitchen and spoke to Mrs. Cox and Roy, telling them she smelled gas and opened the windows. Roy attempted to get to the front door but fell unconscious. Then Mrs. Cox turned into a coma from which she did not recover, dying two hours later.
Coroner Lynn Whaley, Janesville, was notified, but there will be no investigation, due to the presence of the physicians at the time of the death. Two brothers, a sister, two daughters and two sons, survive.

Doorn.—The former German Emperor and his bride, Princess Hermine
of Reuss, began their honeymoon Monday with no place to go. They were married Sunday at the house of Doorn, where the one time, Kaiser spends his hours in exile and there they remain.
The ceremonies that united them,
both civil and religious, were witnessed by 25 guests and were kept from the sight of villagers of Doorn and a host of correspondents and camera men.Former Kaiser Booned.
To many of the gamins and the curious gossips who pecked through the gate and the hedges at the royal party, William was just a poor unfortunate target for gossips and bores.
Some of the devoted villagers thought it was simply awful that the exile of Doorn selected Sunday as his wedding day. And not a few of them looked with disfavor on him becoming a bridegroom within 10 months after the death of former Empress Augusta Victoria.Several of the children of that first union saw their father married Sunday, but the wife of the former crown prince absented herself as the nuptials met with her disfavor.
At 11:30 the civil ceremony was started in the lodge where Hermine had spent the night. The register signed and other details cared for,
the wedding party went up the windmill tower to the castle, where the religious ceremony was carried out.
Then came a reception in the smoking room, followed by a luncheon in which the bride and bridegroom sat
at the head of an oblong table.
William wore the full dress uniform of the imperial guards. From both castle and lodge the black and white Hohenzollern banner fluttered. But beyond the limits of the estate, no manifestations of popular rejoicing
were to be seen or heard.Two Raids Fail

Chicago.—Senatorial campaigns in nine states of the midwest and Monday as the issue in Tuesday's of year election go to the people.
The windup finds six United States senators from central states seeking re-election. They are: Republicans—Townsend, Minnesota; McCarver, Minnesota; La Follette, Wisconsin; Democrats—Hitchcock, Nebraska; Reed,
Missouri; and Pomeroy, Ohio.The primary defeat of Senators New in Illinois and McCumber in party in those states with aspirants to the senate. Former Senator De-days of Bull Moose activities, indignant leader of Indiana republi-

Bring up Bodies
of Many Victims(By Associated Press)
Spangler, Pa.—A terrific explosion somewhere in the workings in the Reilly mine of the Reilly Coal company here, at 7:30 a. m. Monday, entombed between 90 and 95 miners who had gone to their work scarcely a half hour before.Most of the men who went to work Monday were married.
The news of the explosion brought their wives and children to the shaft mouth where they gathered in dumb horror.The shaft, which is about 200 feet deep, was not damaged and the cage could be operated.
The first rescue party to enter the Reilly Coal mine after the explosion this morning reported at noon today that they had found three bodies and feared that some, if not all of the other 95 men entombed, are dead.The rescue party entered the mine under the direction of Supt.
J. Flanagan and had proceeded to the third entry on the right of the main entry when they came upon the bodies. The dead miners were brought to the foot of the shaft and the party went back for further explorations.Two Dead Brought Up The first two bodies removed from the shaft were identified as Thomas Logan and Joseph Feltz.
Shortly after these bodies were removed, two living miners fearfully burned, were brought up and rushed to a hospital. They were unconscious and their recovery is regarded as doubtful.The fan house was destroyed by fire which flashed from the explosion and this fact caused miners to fear that the entombed men quickly were smothered.
Owing to the volume of gas in the mine, the rescuers worked in relays and replacements were necessary at brief intervals.Chief officials said the number of men in the workings was less than usual because Monday is a light working day.Rescuers Fight for Life
The rescuers came to the surface
after their second trip into the mine
but declined to give out any further information.A second rescue party immediately went into the workings.
The rescue party consisted of volunteers chosen from hundreds of men who had gathered at the shaft. Shortly before the second crew went underground work was resumed that an explosion car from Pittsburgh was on its way.Silent groups of wet-eyed women and children huddled together close to the mouth of the shaft, mutely awaiting a glimpse of their loved ones. Miners were sent down to search for their husbands and fathers. A steady rain was falling but the women,
many of them bareheaded, paid little attention to the weather.After the rescue crew came up some of the groups moved toward the company's offices, expecting that an announcement would be made.
The rescue party immediately continued their work. One of the rescuers said he thought a fourth body had been found.The rescue party arrived in Spangler on schedule time early this afternoon and the experts from the Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh went under ground shortly before two o'clock. Two more rescuers were sent down to search for the bodies
a few minutes before the rescue train arrived. Six living miners and four bodies have been brought to the surface thus far.The rescuers brought two more bodies and two more unconscious and badly burned miners to the surface a few minutes after the first victims had been recovered.
The head of the rescue party, P. Lanto and Michael Stuck.
The Reilly mine was regarded as non-gaseous and the miners worked with open lamps. The explosion was so terrific that the machinery in the mine was blown from its foundation.Foul air quickly filled the mine and rescuers worked with difficulty in the sector where the main body of miners were trapped.Internationale

Clinton Testing Records

During October there were 354 cows tested in the Clinton association and 25 percent of the cows produced more than 40 pounds of milk, according to the report of Howard Miller, county agent. The cows were tested in the barn during the cold nights produced well. Hens that were left to scold and left out during the cold and wet weather did not produce much. Even fresh milkers in the neglected herds dropped in production. S. C. Jensen and son had the high producing cow for the month. This cow freshened October 2 and in 27 days is credited with 156 pounds of milk and 60 pounds of fat.

Three herds in the association produced an average of a pound of fat per day for each cow.

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR JUNIOR CLUBS

Divide Up Work Among Agencies in County for Larger Farm Clubs.

J. A. Craig, J. W. Dady, Janesville; W. J. Douglas, Beloit; Leo Campbell, Janesville; and E. J. Mullen, Janesville, were named to the committee to have charge of the boys' and girls' farm clubs of Rock county. The junior work was divided up in departments with the hope of stimulating efficient interest in better agriculture clubs to have more than 500 boys and girls in the county.

The schools, Farm Bureau, county agent, bankers and business men are an important part in the program with the breed associations and prominent breeders aiding in the work.

In addition to the dairy calf, baby beef, pig, sheep and corn clubs it is proposed to start a domestic science club for the girls.

Bewick Advice

"No county in Wisconsin can make a bigger thing out of boys' and girls' clubs than can Rock," declared T. L. Bewick, state club leader, who aided in laying out the program. You have a rich soil, a good teacher, teachers, J. A. C. agents in the rural district and good organizations through which to work.

"I hope Rock starts a club for the girls. Bewick makes it a lot of fun in the American home, even on farm homes to some extent. Some schools have an idea that bakeries will replace the home kitchen range—but let's hope not. Get your boys and girls interested in club work and you have a better county."

Work in Schools

Work is to be done in the rural schools and agricultural clubs of the high schools in the various districts under the direction of the central committee.

The juniors will be given a banquet during November in which the cups will be awarded to the winners, the achievement buttons given out and plans outlined for the coming year.

The baby beef club will be started at once and it is hoped to interest at least 50 boys and girls in this contest. The Holstein association will back a club for junior calves and hope to get the goal of entries at more than 100 boys and girls. The two swine breed associations pledged support to larger clubs.

A canvass is to be made in the schools by the teachers, J. A. C. agent, county agent, supervisors and the county superintendent of schools. The committee is expected to push the program to make Rock county first in junior clubs.

List Surplus Stock With Bureau Office

Farmers are urged to send by letter, call personally or telephone any surplus stock they have for sale. The Farm Bureau and breed associations are in receipt of many letters from buyers seeking stock, and wish to have a large list of stock for sale. There is a prospect of selling two carloads of dairy cows in northern Wisconsin. Information on good grade Shorthorns is wanted at once.

"We can help the farmers more if they will send in information of what they have to sell," declared H. C. Hemmingsway. "We receive calls daily and must know where to locate the stock. It would help greatly if more farmers would pay attention to this opportunity to get stock, giving the breed, records, if any; age, and facts relating to T. B. tests, and prices."

$2.30 Beloit Price With Service Charge

Milk prices vary decidedly in southern Wisconsin for November. The prices reported for the Janesville district and elsewhere in the county—outside of the organized Beloit section—is $2.05 for November and $1.90 for December.

The new list for November in Beloit is $1.90 per hundred for 3.5 milk plus a service charge of 50 cents on fluid milk and 20 cents on manufactured milk. The price to be paid to pool members will be for fluid milk and $2 for manufactured. The November schedule was signed this week by the three main dealers and the pool organization.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette: It is said that the Prohibition Amendment was rushed through before time had been given for its consideration. The fact is, this matter had been agitated "one hundred years. Two thirds of the state and many municipalities had already adopted prohibition.

It is said that the law is an infringement of personal liberty. So is the law against theft, adultery and murder; so are the laws restricting the sale of narcotics and poisons; but does any one think these laws should be repealed?

It is said that prohibition cannot be enforced. Those who say this are the ones who are working with might and main to thwart the enforcement of the law. Give us time and you will see the law upheld more and more thoroughly. Chief Justice Taft said it would take ten years to try it out. A reversal of old habits is not accomplished in a year or two.

When men ordinarily normal take up the cause of law, order and good government, they are not to be despised. They are a decent young man to attract votes for a cause that is a public menace. It is not because their pockets or their appetites are deeper, so that they have a personal grudge to gratify.

Let every woman vote on this. Who ever wants order and decency to prevail will vote for Alex. Buchanan, who upholds temperance. Do not vote for the one who talks temperance and clearly is the tool of the wets.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Now our experts have perfected a quick-cooking Quaker Oats—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. It cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

The same super-quality, the same exquisite flavor. All Quaker Oats are flaked from queen grains only.

But for Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

Grocers now have both styles. But Instant Quaker is marked Instant on the label. Get that if you want quick cooking. No other oats on the market cook nearly so quickly as these.

many who think he was unwise to veto the soldier bonus bill concede his courage.

The thing which hurt Mr. Harding more than anything else was his attitude during the rail and coal strikes. There is a feeling that he waited too long before bringing pressure to bear on the coal miners and operators. There is also a widespread notion that Mr. Harding wobbled in handling the shipmen's strike. Many in his own party will never forgive him for being willing to restore seniority rights to the strikers, and a great many more—for laboring men are more numerous than employers—will never forgive him for permitting the injunction process to labor. Still another group commends the use of the injunction as a weapon of protection for the public but insists that the railroad executives were equally guilty of conspiracy to restrain commerce if two or more of them entered into agreements or understandings which by concerted action against their employees had the effect of restricting interstate commerce. The injunction is criticized by them as one-sided.

Pleased No One

Clearly Mr. Harding didn't please any group. He gave an impression of indecision which has been seized upon by critics as a characteristic trait of his whole administration. In looking to 1924 there are republican leaders who think there are other men in the party of more commanding personality than Mr. Harding. They say again and again they hope the president will not run—that he will voluntarily withdraw—"I guess he's tired of the job anyhow" is the comment the leaders usually make.

Part of this is based upon a fear that Mr. Harding will not be strong enough to win even if nominated and that the democrats may get back into power if Mr. Harding is forced into the race. The revolt inside the republican party is dangerous but not well organized. It will gain momentum and support from elements not now friendly to it if the next two years of Mr. Harding's administration are like the last two.

Irrespective of how one feels about the merits of the questions uppermost in the public mind, the fact is the country will demand that an impression be made, at least, be made on the following points:

First—The government's relation to agricultural credit must be more positive and helpful.

Second—The inequitable phases of the tariff must be removed and the elastic provisions of the law actually applied.

Third—Further reductions in taxes

Beloit-Clinton Highway Opening Set for Thursday

Thursday afternoon will mark the opening of the seven mile stretch of concrete binding together the city of Beloit and the village of Clinton, on state trunk highway 61, completed two weeks ago by the R. R. Biscail Construction company of Racine.

Brief programs will be held at Clinton and Beloit. A. R. Elbert, state highway engineer, and County Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore will be among the speakers. The program opens at 2 p. m. when Clinton's delegation will leave that village in a procession over the concrete to Beloit. A chicken pie supper will be served on the return trip to Clinton, many Beloit men attending.

In charge of the arrangements is W. J. McKinney, Clinton. The completion of the Clinton roads gives those in the southern part of Rock county a solid stretch of concrete to Beloit, with the exception of the four miles between Clinton and Darlington and a short stretch of gravel near East Troy.

Instant Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Now our experts have perfected a quick-cooking Quaker Oats—the quickest-cooking oats in the world. It cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

The same super-quality, the same exquisite flavor. All Quaker Oats are flaked from queen grains only.

But for Instant Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

Grocers now have both styles. But Instant Quaker is marked Instant on the label. Get that if you want quick cooking. No other oats on the market cook nearly so quickly as these.

Only one thing can save Mr. Harding—assuming that he doesn't solve any of the foregoing problems and drifts along behind congress—and that is the vote of disorganization of the democratic party. From coast to coast the writer encountered evidence of democratic disintegration. Again and again he found states where the leading democrats have despaired of getting anywhere by clinging to the democratic standard and have joined the republican party. If all democrats become republicans the latter will set so top-heavy in numbers as to bring a split. Were Mr. Harding nominated and running for office tomorrow he would be elected—the democrats have no effective organization.

Two years from now the story may be different. The demands of the east, the pressure of many unsolved problems avoided for one reason or another will force a break in the republican party or a rebirth of the democratic party. President Harding is indeed in mid-stream but if wishes count for any think most of these who criticize him most severely are the very ones who are hoping against hope that Mr. Harding will take hold of himself and vigorously breast the tides.

We Did Not Spring Full-Grown, But Grew

Most of us know the Indian legend of the warrior who boasted that he had sprung full-grown from an oak tree risen by lightning and was struck down by his foe even as he boasted. That warrior had not learned from growth and experience.

We did not spring into being full-grown but started our years of service in so small a way that few could then have foreseen our phenomenal growth. We grew and learned by thoroughly studying the needs of those we serve and how best to satisfy those needs. The open secret of our Nation-wide success is that we are constantly learning.

$6,000 SAVED BY SCHOOL BANK PLAN

2,700 Pupils Enrolled as Depositors — $274 Added to Accounts This Week.

Increasing interest in the thrift movement in the schools is being felt weekly. Deposits each week are already much higher than they were at all last year, when little interest was shown. It is now down to a competitive plan, with different classes vying for largest amounts each week. Tuesday a total of $274 was deposited by 2,700 pupils of the school, including high school. Almost half of the pupils are depositors, as the number enrolled is 2,719. There were but nine depositors, drawing out $22.23, making the balance now on deposit $6,000.07.

Adams Leads Grade Schools

Following are the amounts deposited last week by the various schools:

Grade	Depositors	Amount
Adams	1,100	$10.24
Dorcas	108	2.57
Garfield	122	12.83
Grant	113	6.24
High	262	74.99
Jackson	10	5.89
Jefferson	142	26.77
Lincoln	60	4.77
Washington	255	30.96
Webster	100	8.86

The high school works its bank day with a system of cashiers, who have charge of the classes. They are Helene Lintelman, Thelma Garvin, Agnes Govey, Frank Fisher, Arthur Kemmerer, Alan Decker, Paul Young, Stuart Bolton, Don Plathery, Frank Putnam, Lawrence Ellis, Marjorie Lurie, Elizabeth Capelle, Jean Sutherland, Marjorie Venable, Betty Haumerson, Sven Sorenson, Fred Anderson, Gordon Lamb, Adelbert Puche, Stuart Butler, Ruth Fisher, Quentin Bick, Robert Drew, R. J. Walsh, Marjorie Baker, A. Hahn, Albert Stern, Helen Blake, Robert Peterson, Elizabeth Gidley, Owen Trevors, and James Arnold.

One Group 100 Per Cent

Posters made by Ellen Melross and Mildred Henslow show the amount and percentage of depositors each week. Thus for the week of Oct. 17, Quentin Bick's class was highest in percentage, with 60 per cent of the class depositors. Others averaged around 30 and 35 per cent. Albert St. orn's class, with but 14 per cent, had a total of $5.90, higher than Bick's. Betty Haumerson checked in $10.56 with 50 per cent, while the group enslered by Stuart Bolton deposited $27.73 with 46 per cent. For last week Ruth Fisher's group was the only one to 100 per cent, others being 40 and 60 per cent.

ELKHORN

Elkhorn.—The high school was filled Tuesday night with many standing in the rear, for the presentation by members of the Glee club and public speaking class. For some of the young people it was their initial appearance on the stage, and they acquitted themselves creditably. The woody appearance of the stage gave a splendid background for the gaily dressed young men and the brightly attired young women. The scheme of Patricia was clever, and the solos and part songs were well taken, without hesitation or mistake. The senior boys' band, under the direction of Mr. W. H. Hurd, played several selections at the opening. Miss Knutson, director of the Glee club, was pleased with the success of the first public entertainment of the school year. Those who attended the opera were afterwards entertained at the Pines restaurant by M. D. L. Adams. Gertrude Dunlap, Arlene and Edward Puche were home from the state university Monday.

Two Arrested on Statutory Charge

Fort Atkinson.—Ralph Dittman, Waterlawn, and Mrs. Margaret Menke Lee Carlson, Port Atkinson, were arrested in Milwaukee Saturday on a statutory charge.

District Attorney Ray C. Twining made the investigation which led to the couple's arrest after a visit made to his office by Hugo C. Menke, husband of Mrs. Margaret Menke. Mr. Twining found a marriage license had been issued to them at Waukegan, Ill., and a copy of it is in the hands of Mr. Twining. Mr. Menke, with Milwaukee police officers, visited the flat where his wife and Dittman were living and identified them. Confessed, the couple confessed and were locked up, with their preliminary examination set for Nov. 10 in municipal court, Milwaukee.

The Menkes were married Aug.

17, 1917, and have a child two years old, in the custody of the father.

The charges of bigamy can be preferred against them in Illinois after the Wisconsin case is disposed of.

"Fascination" is mounted on settings that are as picturesque and artistically designed as anything that has been witnessed in some time. They

AND ITS ELECTION DAY.

Perhaps there has never been a state election in which there was so little general interest as in the one to be held Tuesday. That is the way of the primary in a state where the dominant party is so heavily in the majority. If one will consult the election returns of the southern states where the democratic vote is overwhelming, it will be noted that the primary vote is always far in the lead in numbers. Elections are usually mere ratifications. In Wisconsin the democratic nominees were unsuccessful in getting a place on the ticket under the party name. We do not believe the law which deprived them of this is just and right, and it should be repealed. So we have a number of candidates who are democrats running as independents. No one has any notion that they will be given a vote in any way decisive. Naturally Mrs. Jessie Jack Hooper, candidate for the United States senate, will receive considerable support and Arthur Bentley, candidate for governor, who is avowedly w, will also be given many more ballots than he polled in the primary. It will be interesting to see what will happen to the socialist party candidates for governor. Will the socialist vote go to Blaine? We have a socialist as a candidate for congress in this, the first district, but as the vote is small here, it is not at all likely that it will show up as a factor.

In Rock county there is but one county ticket. Walworth county has three. Interest in the state largely has come to be centered in the legislative candidates in several contested districts. The radical majority is very likely to be cut down and it is possible that the state senate will not be controlled by the nonpartisan league.

Outside of the candidates there are three amendments to the constitution to be voted on. The amendment providing that jury verdicts may be by majority instead of unanimous is a radical departure from long established practice. The proposal to give the sheriff a chance to run for more than one term is of no particular importance except to those ambitious to hold the office. The switching from sheriff to deputy and back again in two years has more or less nullified the constitutional inhibition as to elective succession. But the third amendment, as to increased bonding power of a city is a positive danger to the taxpayers. It adds a greater burden than has ever been possible heretofore. It is a temptation to increase bureaus and boards, to enter into municipal extravaganzas and spread the cost not only among the people who reside in the city but increase the burden of the man in the country.

This amendment should be killed unless we want to add to the burden of local taxation. It is well to remember that local taxes constitute 71 per cent of what the taxpayer contributes. If he wants to reduce the tax load the place to begin is locally and he has a good opportunity by voting against this attempt to make it possible to still further add to his tax troubles.

If the world keeps on and women do not reform there is going to be an angel shortage.

WHAT TO BELIEVE ABOUT RUSSIA.

That another effort will be made to secure winter food for Russia is plain to everyone who is following the news, and the bulletins from the several relief associations. But it is hard to come to a definite conclusion about conditions there. In one breath we are told by the American revolutionists and socialists that Russia is a sort of paradise. Here is a new series of articles by Frank P. Walsh, who is more or less noted as a radical and among other things in his announcement are:

The train on which I rode from Riga to Moscow was more comfortable than an American Pullman.

Outside the train windows the fields were full of workers; the crops looked abundant and fine.

In Moscow the cabarets are crowded every night and the monologues and songs sparkle with humorous references to the government.

The Russians look and act more like Americans than any people in Europe.

The Russian system is working like a charm.

In the same mail comes a letter to the Gazette from the American Relief administration which says that "Winter promises a desolate picture here (in the Crimea). . . . Stephen A. Veneer, medical supervisor for the American Relief administration, has sounded already the need of extensive aid which embraces disease prevention and the furnishing of clothing to a people awaiting winter with fear." It does not look as though "the Russian system is working like a charm," as Mr. Walsh says. Dr. Veneer adds: "The unfortunate children are running about almost naked and certainly barefooted. What will they do in the winter? Their sole hope is the American Relief administration. We will feed these children but that is not enough to save their lives. . . . I hope something may be done for these awful homes."

And yet Mr. Walsh, visiting Mr. Lenin, announces that the Moscow cabarets are crowded every night. But let us turn to another witness, Capt. Paxton Hibben, executive secretary of the American Committee for the Relief of Russian Children. He writes upon his return from an investigating tour:

Young girls are hitched in teams to pull plows and harrows in Russia.

Peasants are selling themselves into economic slavery.

Cases of cannibalism were reported.

Russia's darkest year lies ahead. More

MOTORISTS' CIVILITY CLUB

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Washington.—A Motorists' National Civility club which aims to make travel on the streets safer and more pleasant for both pedestrians and motorists has been organized in this city.

More automobiles are on the streets every year. More people are being run down by vehicles. Complicated traffic situations have so far been met mainly with more complicated regulations, so that in some cities more complicated regulations claim that nobody could remember all the requirements. But in spite of the regulations, or because of them, accident figures mount to appalling totals.

A. F. Zerbee, former captain in the regular army, believes that the key to the puzzle is in the attitude of the people on the streets. It is apparent that too many people are antagonistic toward the traffic situation.

The Roman emperor crushing beneath his chariot wheels anybody who failed to scramble out of the way seems barbarous to us. Yet the modern driver who expects the right of way over pedestrians and defiantly takes it in spite of every regulation and every sign is not exactly the same. The chariot would not swerve from its path of destruction. The automobile driver depends on his quick eye and the delicate mechanism of his car to avoid an accident if the troublesome pedestrian fails to jump. Unfortunately sometimes the driver miscalculates and an accident occurs. But the driver is convinced that the person on foot precipitated the affair.

On the other hand pedestrians are inclined to think that traffic regulations are for vehicles only. Children on roller skates and boys on bicycles add to the nervous racking condition and danger of the streets. Children on skates and bicycles can be seen everywhere courting danger by hugging on machines and dashing between swiftly moving cars.

To sum it up, the pedestrian is resentful because he thinks the motorist wants the earth, and the man in the car grows irate at the jay walker.

The mental attitude of all the factions of street travelers accounts for a lot of trouble, Mr. Zerbee thinks. He became convinced some time ago that 90 per cent of the automobile accidents could be eliminated if a more considerate spirit prevailed.

He tried experiments in courtesy when driving his car and when walking, and he was surprised at the results. The people he encountered flashed back courtesy. Mr. Zerbee checked up and found that his nerves were less tense than when he went about with an every-man-for-himself feeling. Furthermore, being courteous and receiving courtesy put him in a cheerful frame of mind. Courtesy pays, was Mr. Zerbee's conclusion, and the more people that practice it the better. So he started the motorists' civility club.

His club is not an organization that meets and reads scientific papers. It is more a state of mind. Mr. Zerbee devised a sticker placed on the windshield of members who pledge themselves to let caution and courtesy rule their machines. He also devised a creed which would be on the reverse side of the sticker to remind the driver of his pledge.

The credo is in general terms and it is intended to cover every situation where the driver must choose between selfishness and consideration. The terms are as follows:

1. Caution will obey all traffic regulations.
2. Courtesy will not assume road superiority.
3. Courtesy will not become impatient when Caution delays.
4. Caution will dim his lights to Courtesy.
5. Courtesy will politely Caution pedestrians.
6. Courtesy will respond to Caution's signal.
7. Courtesy will not cross Caution's path.

As an illustration of number three, Mr. Zerbee points out that along parkways, such as Washington's Speedway, a motorist occasionally becomes stalled. Instantly from cars behind come the impatient screeches and howlings of horns. This tends to make the driver nervous to the extent that he cannot locate the trouble or get his car out of the road.

Number two is most frequently violated by heavy cars which sometimes take up more than their share of the middle of the road.

Number eight is one of the more abstract provisions. It is for the driver who makes a reckless move thereby endangering others who are proceeding carefully. This sort of thing is the basis of many of the just charges of carelessness against drivers.

There is an extreme to everything and it has been claimed by a few drivers that there can be such a thing as too much courtesy. One motorist complains of super-courteous drivers who insist on his taking the right of way at a crossing when they should go on themselves according to the traffic rule. This he says, is positively dangerous in heavy traffic because other cars, knowing who has the right of way, try to go ahead while the Alphonse and Gaston drivers bow and smile.

This sort of thing may happen semi-occasionally. But there is certainly no prospect of an epidemic of acute politeness. As a matter of fact, an incident of this sort does not represent real consideration based on common sense. Traffic regulations are interfered with and other drivers are misled by it is not true courtesy.

Mr. Zerbee believes that every person on the streets should be courteous conscious. If you have ever had a mistake, in grammar, say, go vividly impressed upon your brain that you could never use the phrase without being aware of it you know what Mr. Zerbee means by being courteous conscious. He means, he says, having consideration for other people on your mind. You may think that you have enough on your mind now. But according to the president of the motorists' civility club it is less of a strain to be courteous conscious than to go about darning the world to get in your way.

than 8 million persons will require outside relief to live until next year's harvest.

It might be well for Mr. Walsh to confer with some several people who are aiding in the distribution of food and clothing in Russia, or to read the reports filed with Mr. Hoover and the Quaker associations having relief in hand. Perhaps we would find out who is telling the whole truth. Mr. Walsh seems to have overlooked that "outside the train windows" where "the fields were full of workers," there were "young girls hitched in teams to pull plows." This would be only a passing incident, an ideal socialist state, perhaps, to Mr. Walsh.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE PLEASURE SEEKERS.

'Tis fine to walk with merry folk, 'tis good to sing with glee.
'Tis sweet to laugh in fellowship but life demands his fee.
And man may dance and man may laugh and walk with idle men.
But when the days of pleasure pass, what then, what then, what then?

The revellers are light of heart and care's a thing they scorn.
They wave their hands at sober men who trudge to work at morn.
They pass the burden-bearers by and mock the dreams they hold.
But wasted are their years of life when pleasure's fires grow cold.

The laughter and the jest are sweet, but man must build and toil.
And man must bridge the mountain streams and fill the virgin soil.
And none may dance his years away on pleasure's lonely bent.
And hope at last to come to age respected and content.

'Tis good to walk with laughing men and dance to music gay.
'Tis sweet to gather pleasure's hours and fling them all away.
But though he live his humble birth, and though he be a king,
A man must bear the cares of life and do some useful thing.

VICELESS—NOT VOICELESS

One United States senator has never taken a drink of coffee. Has never learned the taste of liquor. Has never drowned his sorrows in tea. Has never held a hand of playing cards. Has never walked across a golf links. Has never used tobacco in any way. Has never danced and doesn't want to. Has never become a baseball fanatic. Has never been the driver of a car. Has never been a devotee of the theatre. Has never known one movie star from another. He is Senator William E. Borah. The gentleman from Idaho.

But he must have some relaxation. On yes, he has one of the saddest. He attends to his duties. And makes speeches.

Scientists inform us gravely that the earth is constantly growing smaller, and offer to prove it. No proof is necessary. You can fill it by the size of the dining rooms, bedrooms and bathrooms in the new apartment houses.

Who's Who Today

BENITO MUSSOLINI.

Certain Italian gentlemen on the Swiss frontier at Chiasso are sticking out their chests and telling that they once ran Benito Mussolini, new premier of Italy, out of that country—as a vagabond.

Mussolini was 20 then. There was a warrant out for his arrest in Italy. He started for Switzerland. Close to the border he was recognized and crossed the border "100 yards ahead of the police."

On foot he crossed the St. Gothard pass and reached Lucerne, broke and hungry. He was arrested and sent to a prison. After many tribulations he entered Lausanne university, but his activities as a revolutionary socialist, caused officers to expel him from Switzerland.

He went to Trent, Austria, only to be driven out. Settling in Milan, he became the editor of a socialist paper.

When Italy was faced with the necessity of deciding itself whether to ally with Germany, Mussolini came out forcefully on the side of the entente and the socialist party became increased. Mussolini joined the army and fought at Monte Nero and Carso and suffered severely.

With his swift action and irresistible force he crushed the communists some months ago at Turin. The communists had seized the industrial machinery and proposed to run it on Bolshevik lines. Mussolini appeared in Turin in an airplane, rallied the veterans and other conservative elements and in a few days the Bolshevik menace was ended.

Friends say he is supporting the king but he wants him to govern. When he is convinced the king does not govern, it will be a difficult time for the king, for there are 100,000 men ready to respond to Mussolini's call.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 6, 1882.—The first meeting of the mutual improvement club will be held tonight at All Souls church. L. E. Patch will read a paper on light houses while Clara Drake, Little Golden and Mr. M. Boswick will present others on the life of Oliver Wendell Holmes.—There are now 23 prisoners in the county jail, the largest number since early last spring.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 6, 1892.—Apples will be scarce this year, but Grubb brothers have purchased enough from New York state to supply almost the whole town. They expected three thousand bushels during the course of the winter, all the best of the New York crop. It is the largest order of this fruit placed here in a great many years.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 6, 1902.—More than 150 young men and boys have signed their intention of joining the Young Men's social club, which meets and organizes at the Y. M. C. A. tonight. There will be a banquet and election returns will be received.—Practically the same number of people voted this year as in 1900.—The inscriptions will soon be put in the front of the new library building.

Nov. 6, 1912.—In spite of the drizzling rain last night, hundreds stood outside the Gazette office and watched the election results come in. Authentic reports of Wilson's election came in at 7 o'clock when New York state was heard from.—The democratic ticket carried the city by a large majority.—Ringing Brothers circus went through the city today, headed for Baraboo.

THE LORD SHALL BE MY GOD

If God will be my God, and will keep me in the way that I go, and will give me bread to eat and raiment to put on so that I come again to my father's house in peace; then shall the Lord be my God.—Genesis 28: 20, 21.

THE HOT AIR COUGH

Chronic bronchitis is the usual explanation for the annually recurring winter cough of the aged. Old age is a state of mind primarily, and preventable if taken in time. One of the earliest warning signals of the approach of old age is the hot air cough. This is a cough for a place close to the fire, a chimney corner nook, and other forms of cooing. This malady slows down in elderly individuals, the combustion process of vital languishes or smolders, and the individual finds it more difficult to keep nice and warm. In youth, when the vital fires burn briskly, a cold is more likely to keep cool and well; but the old folk, with a lower speed of metabolism, practice all sorts of deceptions and employ all sorts of artifices in the attempt to keep warm.

Now what really is the right of this? Do the old folks sit about and avoid physical activity because they are "poorly" and haven't an active circulation and can't stand the cold weather? Or are these infirmities due to the bad habits of old folks acquired of sitting around and neglecting the opportunity to get their daily oxygen on the job? Does the fire shut off, or is the draft closed because the fire is burning low?

One of the most pernicious habits or practices cultivated by folks with the senile turn of mind is overcoasting the air of dwellings. When the household temperature is maintained at a point well above 60 degrees F., unless some exceptionally efficient method of moistening the air is employed, the atmosphere becomes dryer than the parched air of the desert, and the delicate mucous membrane of the breathing passages can't endure such unnatural dryness long without suffering damage. So, when you have that insistent predisposing factor of chronic bronchitis and winter cough in a majority of cases.

It is a curious fact that a household temperature of 65 degrees F. by artificial means, ordinarily feels more comfortable, less "stuffy," to a sedentary person or one much confined indoors, than does such a temperature kept up 10 or above 75 degrees, for the reason that the moderate heating does not dry out the air so excessively as does the excessive heating. This is difficult to believe until you try it out for yourself.

By all odds the best cough cure I know of for the winter cough of the aged is two miles of oxygen on the foot three times a day, and the weather be well, to put it politely ignored. Two miles thrice daily is a fair average dose of oxygen, you understand. I do not urge any semi-invald to crawl out of his bed and attempt to run off two miles three times the first day of his open air life. If you have cultivated the chimney corner habit for months and years you must break the habit by gentle, easy steps, but you must break it. The price of oxygen will make a wonderful difference in the way the vital fires burn, and will help a lot toward keeping you nice and warm. Besides, it takes you out of the Sahara atmosphere for two hours and that in itself is something worth while.

Correction of Saddle Nose.

I have a saddle nose, the result of syphilis. Would paraffin injection bring it back to normal shape again? (T. C. 22.)

Employe Partnership a Big Factor in Efficiency

In its issue of Oct. 1, 1922, the Chicago Tribune says, "In this field (industrial peace) there is much to be hoped for from intelligent effort to induce investment by employes in the industry or business in which they are employed. . . . If the millions that have been lost in ill-advised strikes could have been invested in shares in the enterprise, the workers in many cases would have accomplished the benefits they sought."

The acknowledged efficiency of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is due in no small measure to the fact that every employe of the Company, if he will, may become a partner in the business by taking advantage of the stock-purchase-plan. To the amount of stock subscribed for by the employe, the Company gives one-half, and the employe is allowed to pay in small monthly installments. Thus he has an excellent investment which he can watch and help make more profitable.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

Whole-hearted co-operation is essential to the conduct of any business. The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) recognizes this fact and believes that no better way to secure this co-operation can be devised than by giving every employe an opportunity to become a partner in the business. The enthusiastic response which the employes have given to this plan proves conclusively that the Company has solved a problem of importance to the Company, the employe, and the public.

There is no idle time nor decreased efficiency due to disputes, discontent, or misunderstandings to be charged into the consumer bill. Every employe of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is delivering full-time and energy to the performance of his task, and this work is to him a pleasure, not a task.

It is submitted that this is another item in that cycle of service which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) renders the public.

We Will Give Some Boy or Girl $.50

A prize of fifty cents will be given to the boy or girl who sends or brings to the Gazette between Nov. 2nd and Nov. 7th, the best solution to the "Robus" on display in the East end Milwaukee St., classified window of the Gazette.

Your answer must be worded in the best English and written by yourself.

The Gazette will also pay $.50 to the boy or girl who brings or sends in the best suggestion for another "Robus."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT—Written and publication authorized by Economy League, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and paid for at the rate of 95c per inch, by the Stack Advertising Agency, Chicago, Ill.

Do You Want Your Pocket Picked?

Well, that's exactly what will happen to you unless you watch your step when you go to the polls on November 7.

You are going to be asked to amend the State Constitution so as to permit any municipality to double its indebtedness, to acquire or build street railway properties, to buy properties for the production, transmission, delivery, or furnishing of light, heat, water or power to the public.

This means that 276 million dollars worth of property on which taxes are now being paid will become tax-exempt. Who will pay the taxes to the State and to the Government on that 276 million dollars? You will, Mr. Voter. You will fill up that money hole if you are sucker enough to vote "Yes" on this Amendment.

Get mad about being called a "sucker." Get mad enough to vote "No" on the most vicious piece of legislation that has been proposed since "Grape-juice" Bill Bryan pulled his unsafe, unsound, ridiculous 16 to 1 stuff.

If this Amendment passes it gives the politicians a free rein to buy a lot of broken-down utilities at fabulous prices, with your money.

The next step in the program is that the bonds now outstanding on these properties, and that would be issued by the municipalities to finance operations, would be tax-exempt.

Do you know just what tax-exempt means? It means a perfectly legal way for the millionaires to invest their money to avoid paying taxes.

But you, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Salaried-man, Mr. Cottage-owner, Mr. Laborer, you pay the taxes that they escape.

True, the bankers and the bond men will make a lot of money out of selling the new crop of tax-free securities, but there isn't any real good reason why you should line their pockets while yours are being picked.

Don't let anybody fool you into thinking that your increased taxes will be offset by a reduction in the cost of light, heat, power, water, or transportation. You recall how the railroads were operated by-guess and by-god during the war. You remember that ships which cost a couple of hundred thousand dollars each were sold by the Emergency Fleet Corporation for as low as $600.00 apiece.

You know that public-built utilities are built and developed at fancy prices that a private institution would never dream of paying. How do they get away with it? By the people casting their votes without thinking. By the voters authorizing a lot of tricky, shrewd, grafting politicians to make expenditures such as are proposed under the Amendment on the Pink Ballot.

Go to the Polls November 7 with a grim determination to Vote "NO" on Doubling the Debt

Kill the Pink Ballot!
